

Tunda: The Qantic Plant and the Devil's Breath (2025)

As part of the solo show Counter-Expeditions at Haus für Medienkunst-Oldenburg (DE). 2025 Multi Channel Version (three synced videos, two looping and separate videos)

Transported by the powerful Brugmansia plant, an Indigenous man is thrust from the Colombian Amazon to the Swiss Alps, drifting between vision and reality. Known in Colombia as Borrachero Andaki (or Angel's Trumpet across Europe), this trickster plant-sprit guides a disorienting journey through time and space, rooted in the ancestral knowledge of the Kamëntšá people. Blending myth, memory, and ethnomedicine, the film explores Brugmansia's power to dissolve boundaries and reveal the future—not through sight, but sensation.
